

NO ORDER TO CLOSE RICHMOND OFFICE

Local Recruiting Station Not Likely to Share in Nashville's Fate.

Although orders have been sent by the War Department for the closing of the army recruiting station at Nashville, Tenn., one of the oldest stations in the country, there is no indication, so far, of similar action regarding the Richmond office. The Nashville station is to close August 17.

This action is supposed to be due to the fact that the army has accepted no new men since March 15 last. The regiments were full, and it was ordered that no one should be enlisted save those former soldiers who wished to again enter the service.

The Nashville people do not at all like the order. A cablegram has been sent by the Board of Trade to Secretary of War Jacob McGowan Dickinson, who is at Manila, Philippine Islands, requesting the restoration of the station.

Reason for Action.

There are about sixty-five recruiting stations in the United States. It is reasoned by the local recruiting officers that the War Department decided that the stations at Memphis, Chattanooga and Knoxville could take care of the Tennessee business. Further, it is expected that the office at Knoxville will be closed before the Richmond station is discontinued.

For a month or two Major William M. Miller, retired, and his men have been hoping to get orders to receive new enlistments, but no such instructions have as yet come. While an occasional old man comes along and expresses a desire to again wear the uniform, the local officers have not had enough work for the past four months to keep them in practice.

Birthday Party Revives Story of How for Him.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) London, July 16.—If a man is only as old as his feelings, Sir Robert Ball, the eminent astronomer, will not trouble about the fact that he has just passed his seventieth birthday. He passed it by with his customary good humor, of which he has such a considerable store, that it is said he can keep smiling even when his golf ball is in its most troublesome mood.

But even Sir Robert once met his match. This was at Stratford, where he was dining with a small company of fellow-scientists.

"Madam," he said to the landlady, when she presented her bill, "I am going to give you a lesson on astronomy. In 26,000 years everything must return to its first condition. We shall all be here again, eating a dinner precisely like this. Will you give me credit till we come back?"

"Well," replied the landlady, "you are here about 26,000 years ago, and you left without paying the bill then. Settle that account, and I'll trust you for what you have had to-day."

Bad Odors and Bane Munk

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) Paris, July 16.—"Ans" is not, as might be supposed an abbreviation of Ananias, but the initials of a new brand of brother. They have formed the "Association of Noses That Suffer." They are persons with sensitive mucous membranes, which are grievously afflicted by bad smells. The purpose of the society is to do away with the latter.

Among bad smells they include not only such violent perfumes as that of a tannery, but also scents which those who use them appear to consider pleasant, such as patchouli, and all those into which musk enters. Every member will be pledged to scent his handkerchief with nothing more potent than white rose, new mown hay, violets, and so on, and to insist on his

The new League of Nice Noses will protest against the smells of railway trains, motor cars and of Paris streets on August days. Whether they will achieve anything is another question, but at least they will have protested. They will invite doctors, poets, philosophers, and all persons of delicate tastes to join them.

The Viscount Robert de Montesquiou-Fézensac, one of whose volumes of verse is called "Le Chef des Odeurs Souaves," that is to say, the chieftain of sweet scents—a title which has no clearer meaning in French than in English, but sounds appropriate in the present case—has naturally been elected an honorary member.

KAISER JESTS TO RAISE SPIRITS OF FINANCIERS

Seeing Gloom of Guests Over Zeppelin's Loss, He Said: "Well, Your Beer Is Free To-Night."

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) Berlin, July 16.—Appropos of Count Zeppelin's latest loss, a good Kaiser story is being told.

Recently the Kaiser invited prominent financiers to a beer evening at the palace in Berlin. They happened to be the same guests whom, on a similar previous occasion, he had induced to subscribe large sums for Count Zeppelin's project. The Kaiser was in the highest spirits, laughing and jesting; the financiers were all silent, and were hardly able to raise a wan smile even at the Emperor's merriest quips.

The Kaiser stared with astonishment and asked: "What on earth is the matter with you gentlemen?" One of the financiers gently stroked his pocket and the Kaiser burst into a roar of laughter. "Oh, I see," said he; "but it is all right, your beer is free to-night!"

LIPTON TO BE CROKER'S
GUEST FOR HORSE SHOW

Mrs. Stella Bowman Will Act as Hostess to Large House Party at Glencairn.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) Dublin, July 16.—Sir Thomas Lipton has promised to be the guest of Richard Croker at Glencairn, the "Boss's" beautiful place near Dublin, for the great horse show, which takes place towards the end of August. A very big house party will assemble for this favorable event at Glencairn, and, as usual, Mrs. Stella Bowman, Mr. Croker's niece, will act the part of hostess.

Mrs. Bowman is a fine singer, besides being a charming hostess. Her services are so eagerly sought for in Dublin that she is often booked months ahead in the cause of charity. Mr. Croker and his niece will remain at Glencairn until October, when they go to Palm Beach for the winter. Mr. Croker's horses will run at Phoenix Park races in August, and this season he has some exceptionally good young horses in training. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Croker, Jr., will remain at Glencairn until the fall.

FORTY RIFLEMEN GET TRIP TO PERRY

Government Will Take Candidates There for Practice Prior to Match.

WEIGHT SEALERS NAMED

Many Minor Jobs Filled—Virginia Troops to Be Paid in Cash.

Not only the Virginia rifle team at the Camp Perry, but the entire list of candidates for the team, will be taken to the camp at the expense of the government, and with full pay, for the preliminary try-out. This information was received yesterday morning at the Adjutant-General's office from the War Department.

Such action had not been expected, for it had been anticipated that the men detailed to take a hand in the try-out would meet somewhere in Virginia for the trial. The new order means that about forty shots will go to Camp Perry for a trial lasting two weeks, will have the advantage of practice on what is regarded as the best rifle range in the United States, and will have their transportation furnished and receive full service pay.

Begin About August 4. Colonel C. A. Dempsey, United States Army, retired, inspector of small arms practice for the Virginia volunteers, expects to get the practice team corralled at Camp Perry about August 4 or 5. The trials will thus run up to about August 20, when the match-shooting will be begun, and those who succeed in making the team will remain. Those who fail will return to their home stations.

Although each company in the State may name two men to take part in the try-out, many of them have no men who wish to participate, and it is not expected the number will exceed forty. From these will be selected the best fifteen, twelve to be shots and the other three ordnance men. In case of illness to one of the shots one of the ordnance men will take his place.

The educational feature of the trip to all of the men is expected to be of great value, whether making the team or not.

SEALERS APPOINTED

Officials Named at Request of Railroads to Test Scales.

Responding to the demands made by the railroads of the State that they be allowed to come by the new law by having their scales tested by official sealers of weights and measures, many new sealers have been appointed within the past week or two. In most counties and cities of the State there have been no official sealers for some time, the law being very little demand for their services, and the job being hardly worth the taking.

However, under the new law, railway scales must be tested and sealed, and a penalty attaches for every failure. Therefore, the railroads are anxious. Colonel John W. Richardson, Register of the Land Office, is ex-officio State Superintendent of Weights and Measures, and he has been urging the Circuit Courts to make the necessary appointments.

Following his request, sealers have been named as follows: Counties—Alexandria, George F. Dennis, Arlington; Fairfax, A. S. Barkdale, Houston; Culpeper, R. C. Vass, Culpeper; Washington, W. W. Boyd, Abingdon; R. B. D. Montgomery, W. D. Stuart, Christiansburg; Nansemond, John F. Huffman, Suffolk; Norfolk, J. D. Berry; Powhatan, J. Haskins Hobson; Spotsylvania, R. O. Gordon, Cities—Alexandria, L. D. Lyles; Lynchburg, M. N. Towson; Roanoke, Samuel N. Brodie; Portsmouth, Luther W. Hall. The only counties which had sealers before the latest statute went into effect were Alleghany, Accomac, Buchanan, Clarke, Charlotte, Carroll, Essex, Elizabeth City, Fairfax, Frederick, Prince William, Isle of Wight, Pittsylvania, Rockingham and Warwick. The Richmond sealer is T. W. Joseph.

PAY SOLDIERS IN CASH

Colonel Consolvo Will Send Solid Duplicates to the Troops.

Responding to a request for instructions, the Adjutant-General's office has notified Paymaster-General Charles H. Consolvo that it will be legal for him to pay off the troops engaged in the Gettysburg encampment in currency instead of by check. It is therefore presumed that the cash will be along within a day or two.

In case of the Richmond soldiers, it is probable that the money will be sent to Major T. M. Wortham and Major L. T. Price, as the highest in rank of the artillery and infantry here. The package of cash must be opened according to army regulations, in the presence of another officer, presumably Captain Myers for the Howitzers, and Captains Stone, Wallace, Herbert and Stack for the First Regiment companies. They in turn break the seals of the company remittances in the presence of other officers. Individual packages of cash are not handed to the men intact, each being broken in the presence of the recipient and counted. If there is the slightest mistake in the amount the money is returned to the Paymaster-General for correction.

Will Take Down Signs. Much interest was exhibited yesterday by Richmond brokers who have been exhibiting the sign of "banker" and using the word on their stationery in the article published in yesterday's Times-Dispatch regarding the new law on the subject. Several of the signs called at the offices of the State Corporation Commission, and were shown the law and the commission's construction. The sky line on Main Street will change materially within a few days, for the word "banker" must be removed in every instance where the concern is not doing a regular banking business. Some of these companies have charters which permit them to do a banking business. It is regarded as likely that they may be obliged to get an amendment omitting this word.

Will Visit Normal. In the prosecution of his work as the secretary of the Virginia Co-operative Educational Association, Professor J. H. Binford will this week visit the summer normal schools at Winchester, Harrisonburg and Martinsville. At each school he will deliver an address and endeavor to stir in them a more improved spirit of beautifying school property.

was much interested in the information given him yesterday by H. Y. Brooke, Assistant Examiner of Public Accounts for Alabama, who called at his office.

Mr. Brooke said that at his State five men are almost constantly employed on the work which in Virginia Captain McCarthy does by himself—that of auditing the accounts of public officials. They get a per diem and expenses, the remuneration averaging $247 a year. There are sixty-seven counties in Alabama, and on an average two men take twenty-one days in checking up the books of the officials of a county.

During the first year of this practice the examiners turned in to the Treasurer of the State $130,000 which had not been mentioned in the reports of the officials who collected it. It takes the five men two years to get around to all the officials.

NATIONAL ROULETTE IN PLACE OF RACING BETTING

Sir Hiram Maxim Points Way to Pay Off the Government Debt in Few Years.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) London, July 16.—Sir Hiram Maxim suggests that national roulette should be substituted for betting on horse racing.

"There is no winning system in betting," said Sir Hiram, "except keeping well inside the odds, which it is the business of the bookmakers to do. Most people who bet and gamble know they must lose, and consider themselves repaid by the excitement. I suppose, of course, they are always hoping for a big stroke of luck, but few get it."

"This being so, I would have national roulette substituted in England for betting on horse races. I mean that betting on horse races should be penalized, with the result that racing would practically cease, except between genuine horse-lovers and sportsmen."

"By organizing roulette tables, with the minimum odds against the banker, which would mean that about $10 of every $500 passing over the tables would go to the state, the government could pay off the national debt in a few years. The chance of gaining a big prize will always make people gamble."
